DEVELOPMENT AND GLOBAL THROUGH LIFE SUPPORT

Survitec is the only company with the ability to offer a unique total through-life service focussed on the complete supply chain management of all facets of military marine based safety. This includes the assessment, acquiring, and management of all naval marine related equipment and documentation. Leveraging our global footprint, we deploy a multi-disciplined team of experienced engineers, trainers, procurement personnel and maintainers to deliver a complete supply chain service. Organisations can delegate duty of care with complete confidence. This scalable service includes product/system design, vendor selection and approval, multi-vendor management, kitting and marshalling of equipment, warehousing, export control, spares scaling and provisioning, equipment evaluation to specification, documentation review, repair, maintenance and overhaul and end user familiarisation and maintainer training.
