AVIATION SERVICING

ACCEPT ONLY THE VERY BEST

NO ONE UNDERSTANDS SAFETY AND SURVIVAL LIKE SURVITEC...

To complement our extensive aviation product range we provide customers with a number of important services to ensure our products perform as expected throughout their entire lifecycle. We service and maintain all equipment, provide inspection, testing and certification services, and we offer advice and guidance on legislative requirements and compliance.

With over 30 years' experience in the Aviation sector of combining high quality safety and survival products with a fully accredited service capability, we have developed a reputation for total reliability in an environment that demands no errors. This approach has ensured our rapid growth and today we supply safety and survival equipment services to a diverse range of aviation and emergency services customers including leading airline, offshore transport, search and rescue and military aviation operators.

THE SURVITEC STANDARD

At Survitec we believe when you purchase your equipment it is only the beginning of your relationship with us. Safeguarding lives through high quality safety equipment is at the heart of everything we do. With over 90 years' total experience to our name, we ensure your equipment receives only the very best care and attention throughout its entire lifecycle.
