ACCEPT ONLY THE VERY BEST

SERVICING YOUR AEROSPACE SURVIVAL EQUIPMENT?

Think Standards, Think Survitec

As the design authority and manufacturer of world leading safety survival equipment we understand every critical detail of the equipment we produce. From its design, materials, intrinsic survival properties and best practice for use in field, to its assembly procedure, storage and through-life maintenance. Working in partnership with Survitec guarantees you the benefit of this unrivalled knowledge, for total peace of mind your equipment operates as expected each and every time.

The Survitec Standard

At Survitec we believe when you purchase your equipment it is only the beginning of your relationship with us. Safeguarding lives through high quality safety equipment is at the heart of everything we do. With over 150 years' experience to our name, we ensure your equipment receives only the very best care and attention throughout its entire lifecycle. With over 500 fully approved spare parts, Survitec has a number of component solutions for every product currently in service.

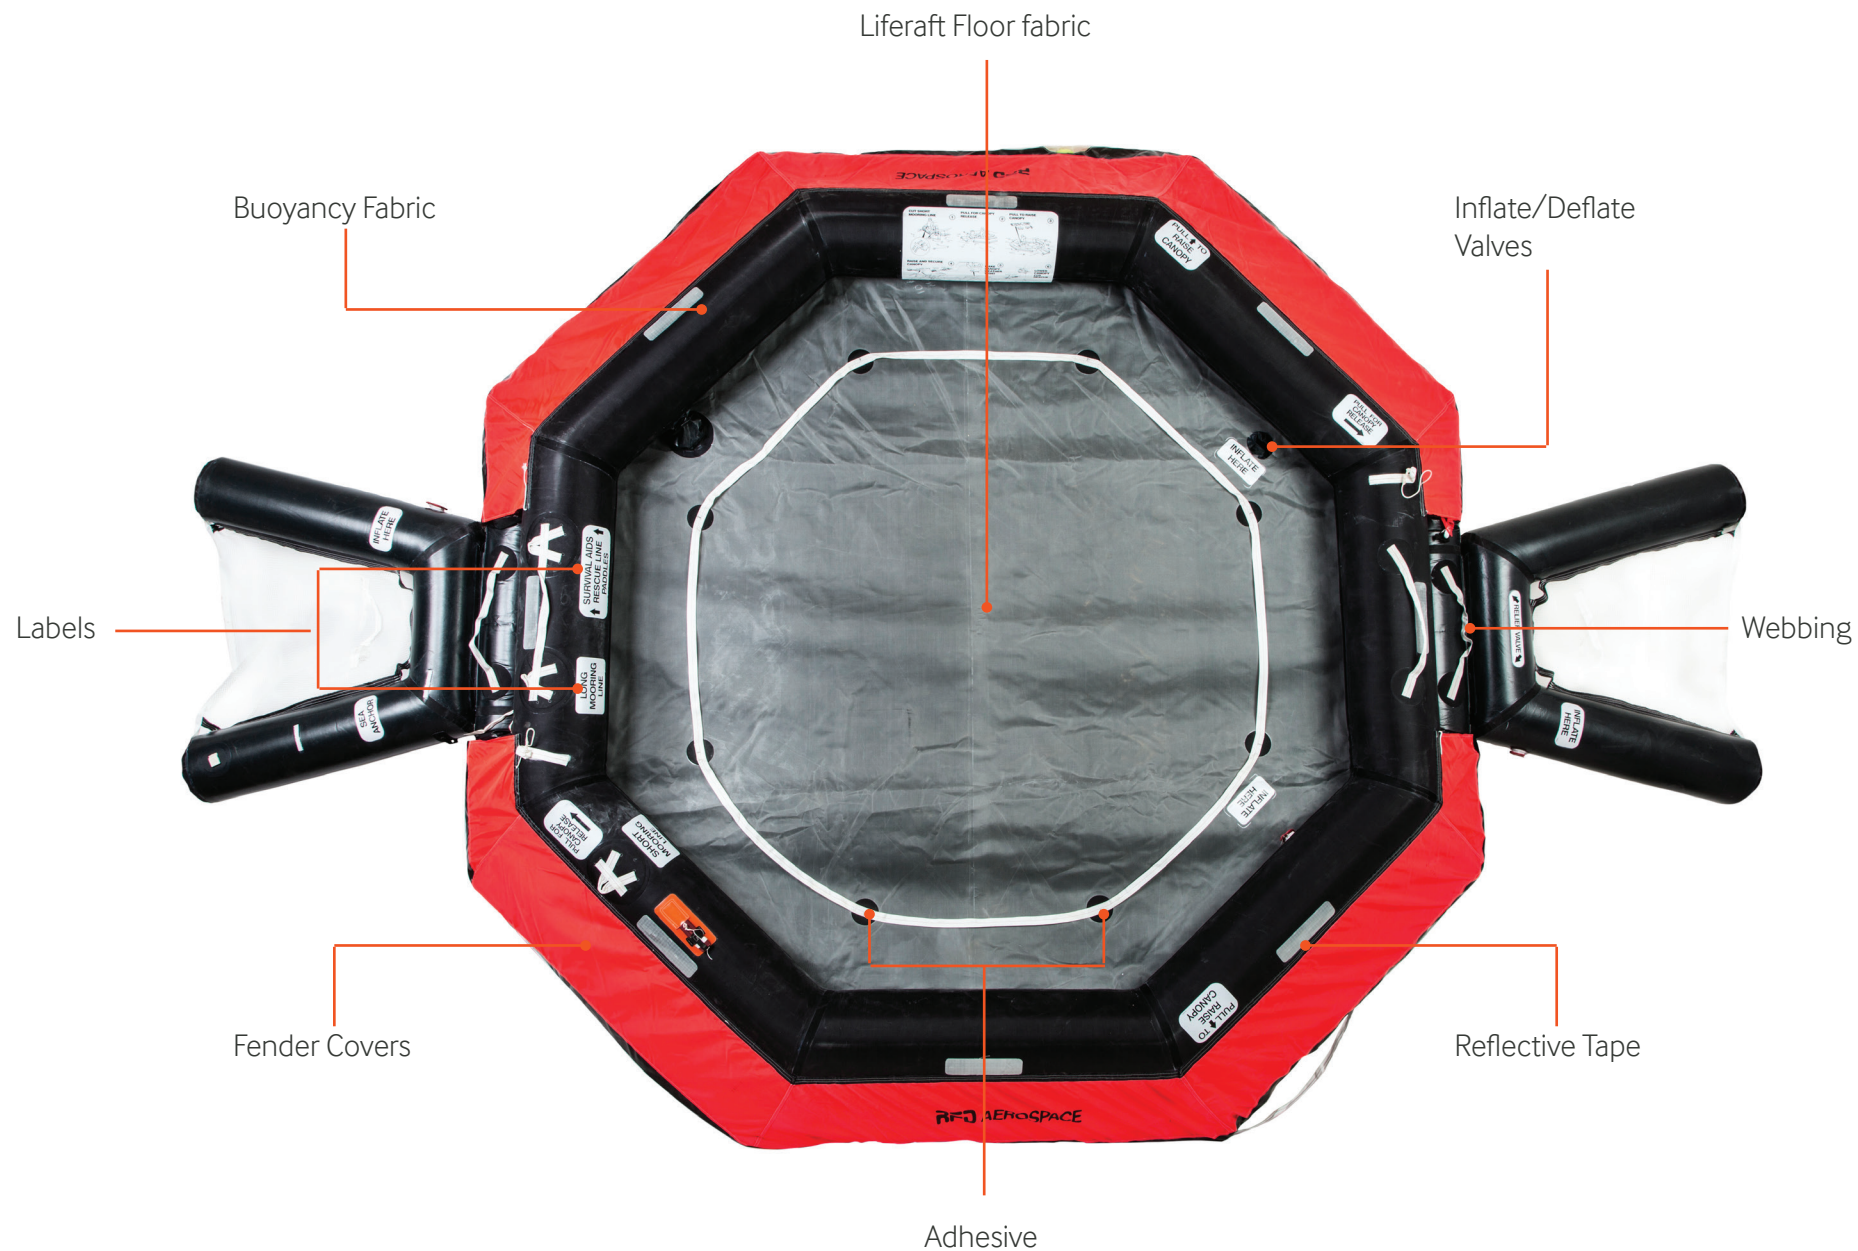

LIFERAFT SPARE PARTS

Survitec is a world renowned supplier of liferafts to the aerospace industry, with a survival solution for virtually any aircraft. Having pioneered the first ever rotary wing specific raft in the 1980s, the innovative Heliraft, Survitec continued to develop this range further to include the Aerolite, a leading range of canopied liferafts, the SAR-Raft, a universally adoptable range suitable for search and rescue operations and the Pilot liferaft for leisure applications.

Survitec supply replacement items for all liferafts, including raft components, inflation mechanisms, and auxiliary products such as lights, beacons and paddles.

ADDITIONAL LIFERAFT COMPONENTS

LIFEJACKET SPARE PARTS

The Survitec group has an unrivalled portfolio of aviation lifejackets, suitable for any operating scenario. Our lifejackets are available for a number of aviation environments including commercial airline, private charters, offshore transport, search and rescue and military personnel. Each product is supported by a large collection of fully approved spare parts required for their proper operation. These include cylinders, water activated sealights, valises, and dedicated components for bespoke products such as the unique infant survival aid, the Babycot.
